Hi Jemma! How are you???

This is a bit weird - you sent Ariane an e-mail last Thursday 18 May about RP46061. You advised that RP82548 is a redundant plan and that RP46061 is the current plan. That's fine and dandy and Lots 1-4/RP82548 have been deleted, thanks very much for your help!

BUT, for some weird reason, we picked up 4 new hangers-on (for Lots 73 & 74 RP46061) from the download last week, and they are L1-4/RC82548. I've checked the plan out in Plan Details in CISP, and it says "THIS IS A RED CAT" and "F332136 DETER. NOT TO PROCEED WITH REALIGNMENT.B328335". What does it all mean??? I'm confused.....

Cheers!

Tess

Jemma phoned 1-00 23/5/2000 & advised "Red Cat" is short for "Redundant Catalogue". Plan No: RP/RC 82548 is redundant.

Hello Ariane,

A recent check of Council's records, about the above address, confirms that the site did have an F & C licence which was approved 24 July 1968 to BP Australia Limited. In May 1975 the licence was transferred to Mobil Oil Australia Limited and finally in July 1980 Ascot Taxi Co-operative Society Ltd. Where it remained till the licence was cancelled in August 1992 and the tanks removed.

The Lots 2/3 RP 82548 should be Lots 73/74 RP 46061 as to Lots 1&4 RP 82548 the properties are retired. The quintities are follows.

Flammable Liquid Class "A"(Motor Spirit)
Four (4) 9 200 litre underground tanks.
Two (2) 4 500 litre underground tanks.

Hello
I'm checking up on a site listed on the Environmental Management Register, Lot 73 & 74 RP46061. Our Register has picked up Lots 1-4 RP82548 as subdivided parcels.

Rod advised me on the phone earlier this year that RP82548 is a redundant plan, making Lot 73&74 RP46061 the current description. I would like to get email confirmation of this before deleting the new parcels from the Register - thanks,
Ariane
